The JTE Double Welder

JTE Machine Systems, Inc. announces a Stationary Welder with Two Stations

This unique design allows for two operators to be running the same or different products on the same machine. With two independent welding heads and two different tooling setups, this machine does two jobs in the footprint of one! With advanced features using touch screen technology and a 18" x 24" bed plate, you can use this RF Welder for a large variety of projects, saving the settings from one job to the next. A quantity weld counter with auto stop and an open design allows for maximum efficiency.
